Regional News Round-Up

The Maryland Board of Public Works has approved a $32 million rehabilitation project at Martin State Airport, which will include pavement and other improvements. Construction is expected to start this spring and continue through the end of the year or into early 2025.

In other Martin State news, state delegates representing the region have expressed opposition to Air Force plans to eliminate the 175th Wing of the Maryland Air National Guard, which is based at the airport.

According to GAMA, in 2023 - for the first time in more than a decade - more than 4,000 general aviation aircraft were delivered, including 730 business jets.

A minor accident involving a Pilatus PC-12 occurred at Leesburg Executive Airport on January 26; as always, fly safely!
